Plug 200

A plug of 200 rooted cuttings
from our own production.

Optimized for transplanting to small diameters.

A woman in a grey hoodie and dark pants stands in a greenhouse, looking at a computer monitor. In the background, there are blue shelving units and stacks of white plastic pots. The scene is brightly lit by natural light from the greenhouse structure.

URC GRADING LINE FOR HIGH UNIFORMITY

A close-up shot of a metal tray filled with small green seedlings. The tray is suspended and being sprayed with multiple high-pressure water jets from below, creating a misty spray. The background shows more of the industrial nursery equipment.

KEEP IT CLEAN
STAY CLEAN

A wide-angle view of a large-scale automated seedling production line in a greenhouse. The system consists of multiple conveyor belts and sorting mechanisms. In the foreground, several clear plastic trays filled with young green plants are visible. The background shows the extensive structure of the greenhouse with its translucent panels and metal framework.
